

June 24, 2019

To ENMESH board members

Differences of opinion are legitimate and welcome, as long as they yield to fruitful discussions respecting all sides involved. Most people I have met over the years who work in the field of mental health share an ideology and commitment for equality, human rights and inclusion.

Boycott of Israel or any other country is not a constructive tool to resolve any conflict and stands in contradiction to the above values.

Therefore I can no longer serve on the board of ENMESH.

Prof. David Roe
University of Haifa
Israel